

Support Kiwi kids with cancer through payroll giving

Every week in Aotearoa, three families are told the heartbreaking news that their child has cancer. Child Cancer Foundation is dedicated to supporting them every step of the way.

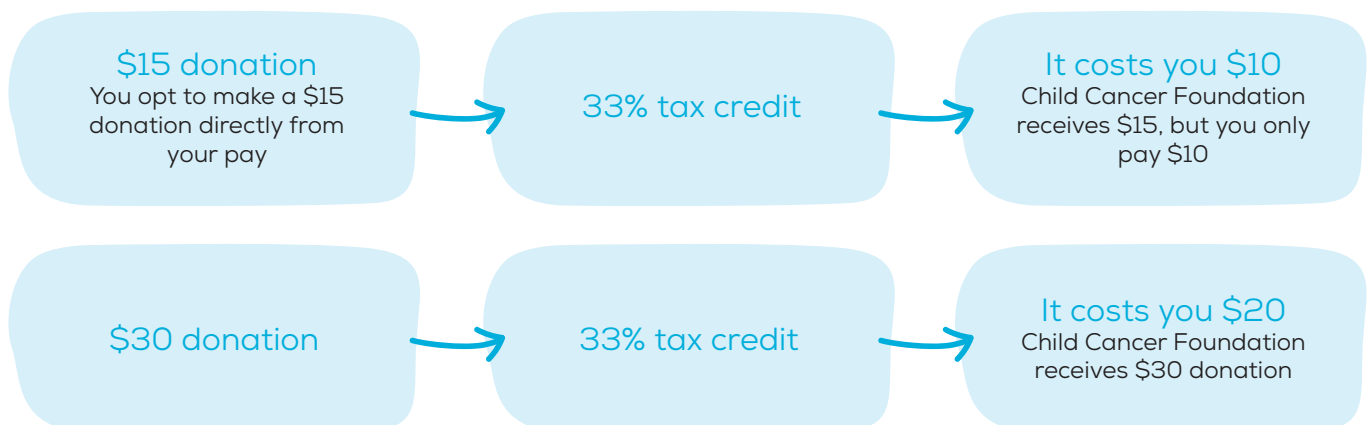

We don't receive any direct government funding, so we rely on the generosity of people like you to support these children and their whānau.

What is payroll giving?

Payroll giving is a voluntary scheme that allows you to make regular donations to Child Cancer Foundation directly from your pay. You choose the amount to donate and frequency of the donation, and it will be taken out of your pay before it goes into your account.

If you donate over $5, you will receive an immediate tax credit of 33% towards your PAYE. This means that while Child Cancer Foundation will benefit from the full donation amount, you will receive a third of it back.

For example:

You won't be issued a receipt for your payroll donation and you don't need to do anything at the end of the tax year, as you've already received the tax credits in the form of reduced PAYE.

Get your payroll giving set up

Good news! Your employer is already set up on payroll giving. All you need to do is provide your payroll department the below information:

- The amount you want to donate
- How often you would like to donate – e.g. fortnightly, monthly

And that's it! Your donation and tax credits for payroll donations will show in your wage records and on your pay slips.

"What might be just a small cup of coffee for us translates to real-life, tangible outcomes for our charities."

– Darren, payroll giving member at Latitude Financial Services

Why donate to Child Cancer Foundation?

Finding out your child has cancer turns your life upside down. It happens to more than three Kiwi families every week. None of them ever thought it would happen to their child.

Cancer doesn't care about these children or their families. Child Cancer Foundation does. We support them every step of the way, whatever the outcome, for however long it takes.

We focus on the whānau, not the cancer. No two families' experiences are the same, and neither is the nature of the support they need. One thing is always the same, though. We support every family to concentrate on the most important thing of all: loving and caring for their child.

We don't do this alone. The generosity of our fellow Kiwis ensures we can make these families' lives better. We all do this, together.

Find out more at childcancer.org.nz.

"I choose to donate using our payroll giving programme because it's really easy to do and you don't notice when it comes off your payroll."

– Wendy, payroll giving member at Latitude Financial Services

Thank you

From all the tamariki and families impacted by childhood cancer in New Zealand, thank you for taking the time to learn about how you could make a difference through payroll giving.

The Lee family

The Pinto family

The Hillary family

The Palmer family